

2016 Schloss Johannisberg Rheingau Riesling Schloss Johannisberger Spätlese "Grünlack"

|                    |                      |                        |   |
|--------------------|----------------------|------------------------|---|
| Rating      | Release Price | Drink Date      | Producer: Fürst von Metternich-Winneburg'sche Domäne SchlossJohannisberg |
| 94                 | NA                   | 2017 - 2050            |   |
| Reviewed by | Issue Date    | Source          | From: Germany , Rheingau   |
| Stephan Reinhardt  | 29th Dec 2017        | 234, The Wine Advocate |   |

Picked between October 27 and November 3, the 2016 Rheingau Riesling Schloss Johannisberger Spätlese "Grünlack" opens with a beguiling bouquet: stony and spicy-flinty on the coolish nose but also piquant with its tropical fruit and notes of lime blossoms. On the palate this is a generous and lush Riesling whose acidity is smooth but perfectly interwoven. This Grünlack drives me to lose my willpower. It is such a sensual and erotic but also highly elegant, piquant and salty Riesling Spätlese that I can't spit. I don't even have the discipline not to drink the whole bottle! I admit, this is my wine Venus: coming out of the Venus mountain (a rocky quartzite mountain here), alluring with piquant tropical fruit flavors, luring me in without letting me out.

Color: White

Type: Table

Sweetness: Sweet

Type: Table

Variety: Riesling